NETWORKING PARTY!!!

SACWN's June 16 event will be a Networking Party. As in past networking programs, the evening will include several creative games to entertain you and allow you to connect in new ways with other SACWN members. Remember the fun we had with horoscopes and collages? Well, this program will offer more fun and humor as we discover additional dimensions to our complex membership. Be there. It will be a hoot and a holler!

A special part to this Networking Party will be a SACWN raffle. Everyone who pre-registers for the program will receive a free raffle ticket. First prize is a two-night stay at Sallie and Eileen's, a bed and breakfast inn for women in Mendocino. Second prize is a massage from Wimsey Willow Wrede. Third prize is a haircut from Suzan Pope at Victoria's. Additional raffle tickets will be sold at the Networking Party.

See additional article about the raffle prizes on page 10.

See you on June 16!!

STEERING COMMITTEE REPORTS

CORPORATE COORDINATOR'S REPORT

Several new policies were adopted at the May 2 Steering Committee meeting which affect all members.

JOBS OUT FOR BID

First, in keeping with our policy, as a lesbian networking organization, to make every effort to purchase services from within our membership (or at least from providers of services who are supportive of our community), we decided that any time SACWN needs to contract out for work, the project will first be advertised in the newsletter. For information on a current job for which SACWN is requesting bids, see the Marketing Coordinator's Box Ad elsewhere in this newsletter.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AT EVENTS

Another policy has to do with an effort to eliminate disappointments and problems that have occurred at recent meetings. Announcements were received too late and/or in too complex a form to be made at the meetings. From now on, a simple form will be available at the HUB so you may write the desired announcement. Any member wishing to submit an item should fill out an Announcement Form at the HUB as soon as possible before the time set for the program to begin. If the form is filled out and time permits, every effort will be made to make the announcement. We're sorry for any past foul-ups, and we hope this will improve the process.

STEERING COMMITTEE OPENINGS

Several positions will be vacant in October. Please, women, start thinking about serving on the Steering Committee now!! Become involved in the leadership and service of SACWN!! Members will be asked to serve two year terms, though some one year slots may be available. An orientation, workshop and retreat is scheduled for the weekend of November 4-5 for all new and returning Steering Committee members to get reorganized and to reassign tasks. A Steering Committee Coordinator will be elected from among the returning members, and other coordinator positions will be allocated according to the needs of SACWN and interests of the group. This is a great way to meet wonderful women, get involved in YOUR community, and have fun while you work hard. Anyone interested should contact Rosy Metrailler for further information.

MARKETING BIDS

Marketing Committee is accepting bids for typesetting and printing of the new member brochure.

They also need someone to do posters for the monthly program.

Please send your bids to Willie c/o SACWN, Inc., P.O. Box 661332, Sacramento, CA 95866.

Or, get involved on a committee these next few months and check it out!!

ALLOW CONFERENCE

Steering Committee Coordinator, Judith Franks, traveled to Arizona this month to represent SACWN at the National Alliance of Lesbian Organizations. She has a briefcase full of questions from the Steering Committee and the Associates. Judith's registration costs and part of her airfare were being covered by SACWN.

NETWORKING REPORT

The June 16 program promises to be a night filled with humor and discovery. We hope you are planning to attend this Networking Party. The Networking Committee has been meeting for several months, planning the creative methods to allow you to discover new facts about your SACWN buddies. Don't miss this evening of fun.

The SACWN Directory is growing in listings. Have you taken the time to fill out a form to include yourself in the SACWN Directory? Better do it right away. June is the last month you have to return the form if you want to be listed. You can find the SACWN Directory forms at the HUB or call the SACWN office at (916) 486-8985 and ask that a form be sent to you. Let's be direct with each other. The SACWN Directory is the best tool you can have to network with your SACWN friends. Look for the SACWN Directory in August.

At the last SACWN event someone came up to me and asked, "What in the world is THE HUB that everyone keeps talking about?" For those of you new to SACWN, THE HUB is the center of information about the workings of SACWN and our Women's Community. At each SACWN program there will be two tables in the front of the room. On these tables are SACWN membership forms, Announcement Forms, SACWN Directory forms, SACWN Steering Committee notes, SACWN Special Interest Group sign-up sheets, the SACWN Constitution and any other material related to SACWN. We also have a table for people to place flyers and announcements about events happening in the Community. The next time you come to a SACWN Program, check out THE HUB.

Special Interest Groups are becoming very popular in SACWN. This month we have included a new group called Sober and Social. We hope you will take a minute to read about the SACWN Special Interest Groups and join one if you like. It's a great way to meet other SACWN women who share your interests.

STEERING COMMITTEE REPORTS

PROGRAM COMMITTEE REPORT

Dear Membership,

Bravo and a huge thank you for making JoAnn Loulan's program so successful! It was a risk for SACWN, Inc. but the attendance of you and your friends brought us almost 500 women. And over 100 new members!

We can apologize up the wazoo for the quantity of food but the facts won't change. Food is our most costly expense. Our goal is to offer high quality programs at an affordable ticket price. Our choice is enough food for everyone and inexperienced speakers or exciting speakers and you can eat at home. We are presently looking for new ideas so please feel free to call or write with your opinions — please be kind.

A brief rundown of what you have to look forward to for the remainder of 1989 and into 1990 (can you believe 1990!) will follow but I wanted to share my latest fortune from a Chinese restaurant with you. "Fat Fong says: What is 68? You do me and I owe you one." No kidding folks, it truly was in my fortune cookie.

Anyway — in August we will have in Sacramento the showing of "Out in Suburbia," a beautiful documentary on the lives of lesbians in California. Pam Walton and women who appear in the film will discuss its making and answer questions. There will be lots of popcorn and drinks available to make this a truly fun event.

September we'll present our first SACWN, Inc. campout. (See article in this issue). November and December will be unusually festive and gay and our Holiday Celebration this year will be open to our gay men friends. This I'm sure will be a loving and warming experience that we all need around the Holidays.

January will be a repeat extravaganza of comedy to begin the year right. We will have two large events, similar to April's program. Music, comedy, education and social awareness will flow in 1990.

Things are changing and SACWN, Inc. is growing and it's all because of you.

Thanks for your support!

JO ANN LOULAN — A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

On Friday, April 21, over five hundred lesbians were treated to an outstanding SACWN program. In what many have acclaimed as the high point in SACWN program history, JoAnn Loulan, noted lecturer and author of Lesbian Sex and Lesbian Passion, enthralled and captivated her large audience with pithy information and advice spiced with humor and enthusiasm.

JoAnn began with some thoughts about dating. She stated that our own internalized homophobia places us in a negative position when we ask someone for a date.

Throughout her captivating discourse, JoAnn conveyed a message of pride and joy in being a lesbian. She was especially eloquent on the issue of coming out. She stated that we tend to have a lesbian rolodex which lists people by "how out are we to whom." "We take out our hearts every day and leave them in the glove box of our cars." "When parents and friends come to visit, we de-dyke our homes."

JoAnn suggested that we offend ten people a day with our overt lesbianism. "Be a lesbian everywhere. Sex with a woman is a miracle, and we need to share our lovers. Be willing to say what we are."

'Lesbian sex is magic!'

Lesbian sex was discussed with humor and statistics. JoAnn drew the correlation that 69% of our relationships last under three years and sex in relationships dropped off 75% over three years. "We are not going to stay in relationships that are not sexual."

The butch/femme stereotype was treated with humor and practicality and we were told that, statistically, 2/3 of the women in the room were involved in yes/no relationships. We were warned about AIDS and we were told that the clitoris is the only organ in the human body that is only for pleasure.

JoAnn concluded her remarks with the same phrase in which she began, "Lesbian sex is magic!"

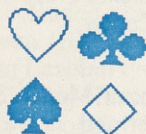

"Feel the love in this room. Come out and be in our clan!"

After a resounding standing ovation, Ms. Loulan graciously signed copies of her publications. It was an evening that will long be remembered and discussed by those who were privileged to be present.

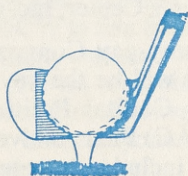

SPECIAL INTEREST GROUPS

BRIDGE

June dates for bridge are Friday, June 9 and June 23 at 6:30 p.m. and Sunday, June 25 at 2:00 p.m. The first half hour of play will be a lesson. All levels of players are welcome; Joyce continues to coach us and we're catching on! Call Kathy Mullen, 362-3175 for locations.

GOLF

Melody, 392-3609.

SINGLES ONLY

May's meeting place was changed as the singles member having the event is no longer single. So — no one knows if you're meeting a new friend or potential partner at these events. Come join us, all of you single sisters and see what will happen! To all of you singles who have met at the SACWN singles and no longer single, congrats!!

May's event included a BBQ, outdoor games and a dance. Thanks, Stacey, for opening up your home. June's event will be the beginning of a long, hot summer pool and spa party at Linda's, featuring pool, food and salads. June 17, 3 p.m. till 8 p.m. For address and food assignment, call Linda, 921-9052; for a flyer, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to 805 Sotano Dr., Sacramento, 95833.

June meetings are Thursday, June 1, June 15 and June 29. New contact person — Sharon, 454-6056.

OUTDOOR RECREATION

Ellen, 441-7962.

SELF-EMPLOYED WOMEN

April's meeting was spent discussing starting a business. Practical hints and networking are common in the group. May's discussion featured marketing as the topic of interest. Next meeting, Tuesday, June 20 at 7:30 p.m. Call Aerial, 452-5503 for location.

METAPHYSICAL/SPIRITUAL

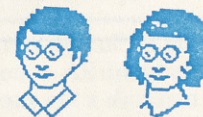

By the time this goes to print, a second group should be in full swing. Call Corky for meeting time and place, 456-1732.

LESBIAN MOTHERS AND CO-PARENTS

Madlyn, 487-3978.

LATE-BLOOMING LESBIANS

At last month's support group meeting, we continued discussion of Lesbian Passion. April's social event was dinner at Good Earth and the movie "Beaches." This group is now meeting twice a month — once for discussion and support and once for social activities. May's social event was a barbecue. June's dates are Wednesday, June 14 at 7:00 p.m. for discussion and Saturday, June 24 for a yet unplanned social event. Call Debbie at 988-0719 or Debbie at 725-3449. (Yes, we have co-coordinators named Debbie).

1989 ALLOW CONFERENCE REPORT

The 1989 ALLOW Conference was held in Phoenix, Arizona, and hosted by Valley Career Women. The participants included representatives from: Bay Area Career Women (BACW) in San Francisco, Ca., The Association of Lesbian Professionals (ALPS) in Seattle, Washington, Valley Career Women (VCW) in Phoenix, Arizona, Professional Women's Network (PWN) in Phoenix, Arizona and our own Sacramento Career Women's Network (SACWN).

The agenda included three discussion groups which focused on Confidentiality, Special Interest Groups, and Community Involvement. The agenda also included the annual ALLOW business meeting to discuss 1990's conference topics.

The issue of confidentiality has long been of primary concern to all the networks. How each network treats the issue varies. For example, BACW in San Francisco applies the issue of confidentiality on two levels: organizational and individual. As an organization, BACW advertises in public places and local newspapers and uses a central phone number where anyone who is interested in any particular event can call. On an individual level BACW sends out promotional information to its members with a list of contact phone numbers and names for any particular event. BACW informs its members that the organization is "out" to the public. However, it takes such precautions in protecting the confidentiality of members by not putting its name on new member packets. It also keeps its membership list confidential. BACW finds that these alternate forms of mailing out information work best for its community and membership of over 1500.

VCW in Phoenix believes in protecting its membership and preserving a place for lesbians to meet without feeling at risk. VCW participates in certain gay and lesbian community organizations and is "out" to the gay community. This puts VCW at some risk because many of those organizations are out to the public. VCW is presently 300 members strong and realizes that it will be faced with the "out to the public issue" as it grows.

Phoenix's other professional group, PWN, which was at one time a special interest group in VCW, has very strict rules about confidentiality. They don't use the word 'lesbian' in any of their literature. They have chosen to use the word community instead.

Each person who becomes a member is carefully screened. The purpose of the organization is for promoting each others businesses through obtaining referrals. This group presently consists of about 45 members. Many of these women are also members of VCW and attend their events. PWN was careful to say that it does not want to compete with VCW which considers itself more of a social/professional organization.

The Seattle women in ALPS believe that there is a line between public access and confidentiality and that "coming out" as an organization is a process. They have an issue with: how out do we want to be. They use only first class mail and their membership list is kept totally confidential. They have put a tighter control on the word "lesbian" in their literature. This has been hard for them since the initials ALPS stand for The Association of Lesbian Professionals of Seattle.

Just for comparison sake, our organization keeps its lists confidential. SACWN wants to provide a comfortable, safe place for lesbians to meet and network. We have always advertised in gay publications in Sacramento. We are presently considering gay TV. However we would never make such a move without first polling our subscribership. We are presently in the process of preparing a subscriber survey that will include a question about confidentiality. Eventually, we may have to take a position similar to that of BACW. That is, that we are out to the public on two levels: organizational and individual and each is treated differently. Before any such decisions will be made however, the subscribership will be polled.

ALLOW is the national umbrella organization for other lesbian networking and professional organizations. Its main purpose is to collect information and share it, as well as to help other lesbian organizations get started. It was agreed that confidentiality as it applies to ALLOW should be the same as it is in all its organizations. Lists of names of board members will not be published or given to anyone without their permission. A central clearing house for the organization will be maintained. So all inquiries will be sent to a prearranged central location.

'... presently in the process of preparing a subscriber survey that will include a question about confidentiality.'

This year BACW has volunteered one of its board members to handle the correspondence. All members of all ALLOW's member organizations get a discount to any event if they present their membership card at the door. This means that any SACWN subscriber with a current card can go to Seattle or Phoenix or any ALLOW member organization event and participate at a discounted rate. SACWN provides information on ALLOW member organizations at the Hub.

The second topic of the day was Special Interest Groups. All the networks felt they are an important part of the organizations and although each group felt they were difficult to manage, they believed that they helped the organizations to grow and change. They all felt the special interest groups offered a more friendly, intimate setting for members. Some special interest groups participants never attended larger organizational events, while others attended after they felt comfortable in the small groups.

All the organizations except ALPS in Seattle and BACW in San Francisco required all participants in the special interest groups to be current members of the organization. BACW felt that having members join was not in its best interest as the groups are its best form of internal advertising. Both ALPS and BACW felt that because of the size of their special interest groups it was impossible to monitor all their activities and confidentiality could be breached.

In general BACW felt that a lot of the women, even though they may not be members, supported BACW's events. They believe that eventually their large special interest groups will turn into associate organizations.

BACW has started a special interest group that has been extremely successful called TGIF. Every Friday from 6-9 p.m. at Charpe's, 131 Gough, women meet to socialize and network. Charpe's is a restaurant and bar. In the last several months BACW has attracted up to 150 women on Friday. There is a $5 door fee to cover the rental of the room and expenses.

Community was the third area discussed. All the organizations have noticed pressure from their communities to get more involved with issues. Some attributed the change to the unification over the AIDS issues. The question of who to align with in the community was foremost in everyone's mind. ALPS in Seattle is looking at having activities with the men. BACW has been looking at doing more community service projects where they contribute labor.

VCW in Phoenix has become extremely involved with several community boards that have formed over the last couple years. One in particular called the SWITCHBOARD which is an information referral service for the whole city for gay and lesbian activities and organizations. They refer to it as their Lesbian and Gay Chamber of Commerce. It is founded by grants from the state because of its AIDS information line. It does a majority of its fundraising at the gay men's bars. VCW in addition has one event a year that is open to all women.

The idea of doing fundraising projects for the lesbian and gay community was discussed. There is a trend to move in this direction by all the lesbian organizations. Methods of incorporation were suggested that would qualify organizations for certain grant monies.

The final discussion of the day dealt with the ALLOW business meeting. It was agreed that next year's meeting would be in Seattle, Washington. The meeting time was set for August and a night cruise was planned.

The conference was adjourned at 5:15 p.m. on Saturday. VCW hosted a country and western dance that evening.

BOOK REVIEW

SLOW DANCING AT MISS POLLY'S, Sheila Ortiz Taylor, Naiad Press, 1989.

Reviewed by Amanda Stennick, SACWN Book Group

This is a nice, first volume of poems by the author of Faultline. But nice poems are often dull and always unsatisfying. I found these poems difficult to read for a number of reasons. There is little alliteration and internal rhythm, making them flat and emotionless. The short, terse lines of the poems give them a monotonal quality I found uncomfortable. The poems tend to read like a novel lacking the appropriate punctuation.

Taylor does write warmly and humorously about everyday occurrences and relationships familiar to us all. This "everyday" quality makes her poems accessible but she does not take the reader beyond the mundane confines of her work toward an emotional understanding of the writer involved in her work. There were times when I felt Taylor was struggling with the construction of some of her poems and the terseness of her lines was unfinished thoughts without images or words to substantiate them.

What doesn't work with most of her poems works exceptionally well in the following stanza from "Confessions of an Escape Artist."

Loving you is a matter/of muscle and marrow/tendon and bone/of cells dividing/in the dark hallways/of self.

Here, the writer is very emotionally accessible and discernible in her images as well as her rhythm.

MASSAGE

A PEEK AT THE FUTURE . . .

Picture it . . . Nevada City, September 1989. You are in the beautiful Sierra wilderness and there's no one around except 84 other lesbians!

You got it, SACWN Inc.'s first camp out. September 29, 30 and Oct. 1 we will host a camping weekend. We will supply food on Saturday and a Sunday brunch and a dance on Saturday night. During the day you can choose between several workshops and a softball game.

The campsite is Camp Minaluto and offers covered sleeping areas, toilets that flush and showers. Because this is our first attempt we must limit participants to 85 women. There will be no alcohol allowed due to insurance coverage. Anyone having a problem with that may attend an AA meeting on Saturday.

Look in the next newsletter for a list of workshops and the registration form. The cost of all this? Only $65. Remember, the first 85 women to register will be accepted.

WIN A WEEKEND VACATION FOR TWO!

Picture yourself enjoying a vacation in Mendocino with that special someone. This trip and other prizes will be raffled off at SACWN's Networking event on June 16.

Each member who pre-registers will receive a free raffle ticket. Additional tickets may be purchased at the event for $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00.

The grand prize is two nights lodging at Sally and Eileen's Place in Mendocino. Several SACWN members have enjoyed Sally and Eileen's hospitality and have come back with rave reviews.

The winner will be staying in a comfortable cabin nestled in a grove of redwood and pine trees. The cabin includes a woodburning stove and a kitchen for preparing those romantic dinners.

Privacy is assured and, if you wish, you can meet other visitors in Sally and Eileen's hot tub. Other leisure time activities include the stunning Mendocino coastline and interesting shopping experiences.

Sally and Eileen's Place also features a smaller A-frame. Rental of this cottage is $45.00 a night and includes a nutritious, gourmet breakfast. If you don't win the raffle and you wish to rent the cabin ($65.00 a night — cook your own breakfast), call either Sally or Eileen at 707-937-2028.

Join us at the Networking Event and have the opportunity to win the two night vacation or other prizes.

You must be there to win!! See you June 16.
